THE STORY

We know there's a lot of light, fruity Malbec on the market (not that there's anything wrong with that). We've never gravitated towards that style and know that Malbec from Washington can be as black as night and quite intense. We've named our Reserve Malbec Inky in a nod of appreciation of our cephalopod friends. Lil Inky has the same approach. We chose one of our favorite sea creatures to represent this wine; cuttlefish. Known for their clever disguises and quick thinking, we raise a glass to these lil guys with this great wine!
